

Luna - Move Better. Feel Better. Live Better.

The Luna, Ergolet's flagship product, is a complete overhead lift solution. One lightweight and versatile lift unit can service several rooms with a lifting capacity of 600 pounds. Moving the Luna from room to room is easy as it can be mounted without tools.

The Luna is able to function vertically, horizontally, or as a mounted unit to better meet all of your lifting needs, while its sleek, pleasing design enhances the user's experience. The Luna's incredible versatility allows for easy room-to-room transfers using the traditional fixed track. The specially-designed discreet E-Track gives further flexibility when designing systems with the individual in mind. Ergolet's patented safe-lock spreader bar puts both the caregiver and individual at ease through its inventive safety features.

The Luna's attached hand control makes performing lifts convenient while allowing the caregiver to remain close to the individual.

New Spreader Bar (Pat. Pending)

Sling straps are placed over the hooks in the open position.

The straps are pulled downward so the hooks lock in place.

Our unique hook design ensures that the weight of the client will always act to keep the hooks closed and in a locked position.

Releasing the sling simply requires an upward pull on the straps to open the hooks again.
